AN OFFICIAL ADMISSION.

The Calgary News Telegram definitely announces that the attack upon Mr. Oliver was engineered by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the then Minister of the Interior, in revenge for the part they supposed he had taken in bringing about the famous "dumping" of the Great Waterways bargain, and the consequent downfall of the administration responsible for it. The News Telegram states that the attack which the Calgary News was reprimanded after its financial success, in the statement published at that time, was the stockholder of Mr. McGillivray's paper was shown to be the late attorney-general of the Province. The subsequent statement of the paper indicates quite conclusively that the supposed sale of the paper was merely a piece of juggling which involved no real sale, and was purely a political direction. It may be taken therefore as speaking with authority on matters pertaining to the aims and doings of the gentlemen who were engaged in the manufacture of the paper. The Minister of the Interior, having gone so far, there is ground for hope that the News Telegram will come along in the near future with the name of the particular individual who "faked" the photograph of the bank account.

The Telegram says that "if every thing is on the square no 'one has a right to know" where Mr. Oliver got any money he may have had in the bank account when he was born. That is a surprisingly reasonable statement considering the source, it has not yet been established that a man can be born with a bank account, and becomes thereby necessarily an object of suspicion, and that he also sacrifices all right to be considered innocent, and to be given a square deal.

If the News Telegram, or the parties it says are behind the attack upon the Minister, know or think they are right in their action, they are square in connection with any public act of his, this is their time to speak out and to produce the proofs. If they can do this, they will be well on the way to gain their end of bringing about the minister's downfall. If they cannot establish that they will remain where they are, and if they do not take a tale they have not good ground for believing true.

Perhaps the News Telegram would be an exception in point, the tale has been going the rounds that the News Telegram gathered in a handful of money from the headquarters of C. F. Hayes, who was then, and is then unmercifully knocked out of the deal the man who has passed the bat to it. The Bullitts, however, are set to be in a matter of fact, or even as a story in it which it puts out. But it is a story which is given out by the News Telegram, and some time have the readers of the News Telegram demanded to be shown the book of the paper as assurance that the honour of the paper is not to be compromised.

What is the right to make any such innuendo against the News Telegram unless it editorial policies suggest that it is a contrived or induced lay behind it.

The News Telegram buttresses up its assertion that vengeance on the part of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the late provincial Government is responsible for that attack by two statements which need correction. The first is that the manager of the A. & G.W. company would not tell everything about his private affairs, that his contract was expiratory. That is the only reason why the cancellation of the contract is plain and well known. The company defaulted in its agreement. That was the cause of the cancellation. The failure on Mr. Clark's part to appear before the Commission. Another misstatement is that the Bullitts took care of the manager of the A. & G.W. company, that he was "crooked." That is a direct and deliberate negation of the truth. The News Telegram said, and never indicates a belief that the members or any of them were other than honest and public-spirited men, fully entitled to make the statement. The Bullitts do not say that without the proof, and it does not peddle innuendos of dishonesty and corruption, and the like, and the like. The News Telegram must look elsewhere for precedents to justify the conduct of its friends. It cannot be found in the files of this paper.

IS IT REASONABLE?

The law party in Canada, and even the free traders who work with them, have not made the claim that Canadian manufacturers should be prohibited from selling abroad, though that is a corollary which might not unreasonable be attached to a general tariff. If a general tariff is being imposed of the nature trade in certain lines of goods, it surely could be no hardship on them to require that the whole output of those factories be sent to the market, thus favoring them with the privilege of supplying all its requirements in those lines. It is the fundamental principle of the market that it should be open to the manufacturers of the country. Its purpose is to encourage so far as possible the importation of articles, and in some cases to make such importation practically impossible. For such favor given it would be most reasonable that the manufacturers should be allowed to do what they please with their products, and that the gentlemen receiving it should devote their energies and means solely to the production of such goods for the market.

Experience has shown that protection without this concession works a positive hardship and injustice on the people who control the market. The same arguments are now being put forward in the case of the United States manufacturer "dumping" goods on Canada, as those which were put forward in the case of the Great Waterways bargain, and the consequent downfall of the administration responsible for it. The News Telegram states that the attack which the Calgary News was reprimanded after its financial success, in the statement published at that time, was the stockholder of Mr. McGillivray's paper was shown to be the late attorney-general of the Province. The subsequent statement of the paper indicates quite conclusively that the supposed sale of the paper was merely a piece of juggling which involved no real sale, and was purely a political direction. It may be taken therefore as speaking with authority on matters pertaining to the aims and doings of the gentlemen who were engaged in the manufacture of the paper. The Minister of the Interior, having gone so far, there is ground for hope that the News Telegram will come along in the near future with the name of the particular individual who "faked" the photograph of the bank account.

The Telegram says that "if every thing is on the square no 'one has a right to know" where Mr. Oliver got any money he may have had in the bank account when he was born. That is a surprisingly reasonable statement considering the source, it has not yet been established that a man can be born with a bank account, and becomes thereby necessarily an object of suspicion, and that he also sacrifices all right to be considered innocent, and to be given a square deal.

The Government has everything to do with this, and it is a good thing to do away with these reasonable limitations. The Government will make no such mistake as that of the Canadian.

It is seldom indeed that the citizens of any community are offered the opportunities of a safe and profitable investment such as are presented by the Edmonton Portland Cement Company. This Company was formed to purchase what is believed to be the largest marl deposit on the American Continent, and also a large bed of fine blue clay, located about 135 miles west of Edmonton on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, about 14 miles west of the town of Edison; and to build and operate on this property a Portland Cement Mill.

The circumstances surrounding this enterprise are so unusual as almost to be romantic. This has been called the cement age. The building operations of the past twenty-five years are so stupendous as to almost defy belief. Yet those who are familiar with what all this means, know that the whole civilized world, and America especially, is but at the dawn of the greatest era of construction which the world has known. And there are those who even go so far as to say that the construction of the next twenty-five years will exceed all the building on the face of the earth to-day.

This great construction movement which has been the spirit of modern civilization, has gone in search of the ideal construction material—a material which would be both permanent and fireproof. And the result has been a material which is as old as history. The Pyramids of Egypt were built of it; the Pools of Solomon at Jerusalem were made of it; the Appian way, leading down to the city upon the Seven Hills was paved with it, and the material monuments of Twentieth Century Civilization will be constructed of that material—CONCRETE—which is PORTLAND CEMENT mixed with sand and crushed rock in about the proportions of 1, 3 and 5.

Concrete combined with steel has given the world reinforced concrete, the most practical and durable building material ever known. With recent years the uses of concrete have extended to almost the entire field of brick, stone and steel, and a thousand other uses to which these materials are impossible, and until today concrete is used for everything from hen's nests to the most stupendous engineering feat of all time, the Panama Canal.

The extent to which the uses of Portland Cement have gone can be illustrated by the growth of its production in America as shown by the following abridged table:—

Year	Number Barrels Produced
1870 to 1879	82,000
1880	42,000
1885	150,000
1890	335,500
1895	990,324
1900	8,483,020
1905	35,246,812
1910	74,000,000

The manufacture of Portland Cement is solely a matter of finding the materials. Wherever these materials can be found in accessible form, profitable Cement mills are in operation. And the Cement Manufacturers of America are scouring the Continent for materials.

Portland Cement is lime and silica combined in about the proportions of 3 to 1, burned to a cinder under a heat of 3,000 degrees, and ground to a powder. The lime is derived from marl chalk or limestone and the silica from clay, shale or slate. The materials owned by the Edmonton Portland Cement Company are a deposit of marl sufficient to run the proposed plant for forty years and a very large bed of fine blue clay far greater in extent than the plant will ever use.

A plant with a capacity of 1,500 barrels per day will be built on the property, and this plant will not have to go beyond the local market to dispose of its entire output. The city of Edmonton consumes about 200,000 barrels of Portland Cement per year NOW, and the demand is increasing. The construction work along the line of the Grand Trunk will consume as much more.

A fifteen hundred barrel mill will have an actual annual output of about 312,000 barrels, allowing for holidays, accidents, running below capacity, etc. Portland Cement can be produced at the proposed plant for 75 cents a barrel, according to the estimate of Mr. R. D. Hassan and Mr. T. J. Klossoski. Portland Cement sells in Edmonton at from $3.05 to $3.12 per barrel. On the basis of an output of 312,000 barrels the result of a year's operation should be as follows:—

Cross sales, 312,000 barrels at $3.05	$951,600
Cost of production at 78¢	243,360
Freight at 25¢	78,000 311,360
Net profit	$640,240

This means a dividend of 40 per cent. in the entire capital stock of the Company.

Of the total issue of stock 9,000 shares are offered to the public at par.

The directors and those who are already best informed upon the merits of this proposition have shown their faith in the enterprise by purchasing stock in the Company as soon as the books were open for subscriptions.

Lieut. Governor G. H. V. Bulyea	$10,000
W. S. Heffernan	10,600
S. H. Smith	5,000
W. D. Ferris	5,000
Geo. E. Snyder	5,000
R. D. Hassan	10,000

J. E. Lundy	5,000
Jas. A. MacKinnon	2,000
A. Driscoll	5,000
Frank L. Day	5,000
Allan Haynes	10,000

The allotment to Edmonton will undoubtedly be submitted within a few days and the stock should immediately go above par; as soon as the issue is all allotted. The shares should go to $200 within two years. Stock books are open and subscriptions received at the temporary offices of the Company in the King Edward Hotel.
